THE RAILROAD BILL. The Taft railroad bill, the most important measure on the administration programme, was reported to the House yesterday from the committee on interstate and foreign commerce by Chairman

As reported the bill retains the Court of Commerce feature and many other parts of the original measure, but the changes made in its text by the committee are so numerous that it is practically a new bill. Its report emphasizes the fact that after hearings the committee "took the bill up for consideration, section by section and line by line." This is in direct contrast with the action of the Senate, to which Mr. Elkins re-ported the bill as written by the attor-Aney-general without any amendment whatever.

identical with the Elkins bill, introduc-ed almost simultaneously. The original Terms; One-third ca h; balance in six and twelve menths. Conveyance at cost of pured almost simultaneously. The original bill, in its entirety, had been framed in the Department of Justice. As the bills now stand they are radically different, and this will serve to complicate the situation.

I, Nevell S. Greenaway, do hereby cartify that Howard W. Smith, one of the commissioners of sale in the suit of Celesta Duncar, et vir. et als, vs. George Ashby Gorbam, et al, now pending in the Corporation Court for the Citr of Alexandria, Virginia, has entered in the bond requiret by the decree therein, conducted as the law directs.

NEVELL S GREENAWAY, Clerk. april th Judge Richardson (dem.), of Alabama, striking at the commerce court, contends that "no untried, experimental legislation of a doubtful constitutional character should be entered upon by Congress at this time when neither consumers, shippers nor railroads ask for such legislation," The democratic members, while earnest advocates of Federal regulation or supervision of interstate railroads, attack the bill as paternalistic.

Still another set of views is presented by Messrs. Simms, of Tennessee, and Russell, of Taxas, democratic members of the committee, who refused to aign the regular minority report, though in favor of some of its features. Mr. Richardson of Alabama, who signed the minority report, believes the bill looks to govern. ment ownership of railroads. He will offer an amendment prescribing physical valuation instead of fluctuating value of capital stock as a basis for ascertaining a fair and reasonable rate.
